Suzana brings with her a wealth of experience from being on the “other side of the fence”. Since being admitted to practice in February 2017, she has practiced in numerous areas of law including workers compensation, CTP, public liability, medical negligence, traffic and basic criminal law. She has experience in appearing in the District Court and Magistrates Court jurisdiction as well as the South Australian Employment Tribunal.

Over the years, Suzana has devoted a lot of her spare time to volunteer work. During her years at university, she was instrumental in setting up the Elizabeth Magistrates Court Outreach Service and co-created a project for primary school students with low literacy levels which aimed to engage them with literacy and numeracy. In more recent times, she has mentored law students, provided them with placement opportunities and guest lectured at university.

In 2018 Suzana was a finalist of the South Australian Law Society’s Young Lawyers of the Year Award. She was a nominee in the 7 News Young Achiever Awards in 2019 and 2020. During the COVID-19 pandemic, Suzana was recognised as a leader in legal innovation by providing interstate mentoring in the TFL Connect virtual mentoring program.

Suzana is multilingual and is fluent in English, Serbian, Bosnian and Croatian.
